

APA Format: A Quick Guide

Additional examples are available on the APA Citation Guide <http://nwtc.libguides.com/citations/APA7>

If you have any questions, do not hesitate to ask your instructor or the librarian.

Basic Paper Format

- Double-spaced with 1-inch margins on all sides
- Page header consisting of the page number in the upper right corner
- Recommended fonts include 11-point Calibri, 11-point Arial, and 12-point Times New Roman
- Title page should include the title, your name, name of college, course number and name, instructor name, and assignment due date

In-Text Citations

When you quote or paraphrase from a source, you need to give credit by inserting a citation. This citation typically consists of the author's name, year of publication, and page number* in parentheses at the end of the sentence. Another option is to use the author's name in the sentence, followed directly by the year in parentheses, with the page number* in parentheses at the end of the sentence.

*Page numbers are required for direct quotes, but not paraphrases. You may choose to include page numbers for paraphrases from long or complex works.

Examples of Basic In-Text Citation

The article goes on to say that "People don't do derby just for exercise but usually because it becomes a part of who they are" (Fagundes, 2012, p. 1098).

OR

Fagundes (2012) added, "People don't do derby just for exercise but usually because it becomes a part of who they are" (p. 1098).

What if there are no page numbers?

If you are directly quoting from a source with no page numbers, use one of the following options:

- Paragraph number: (Ornelas, 2024, para. 7).
- Heading or section name: (Gonzalez, 2020, Production Filming section).
- Abbreviated heading or section name in quotation marks if the name is very long: (Parish, 1992, "When to Plant" section).

Long Quotes (Block Quotations)

Quotations longer than 40 words need to be set apart from the rest of the text. Do not use quotation marks. The quote should be in a new paragraph and set 1/2 inch from the left margin. The parenthetical citation comes after the final punctuation mark.

Example of Block Quotation

He asserts the following:

Derby names are, in this sense, like individual brand names that allow fans to tell skaters apart and more readily link their exploits on the track to an articulated identity. Obviously, standard government names can serve this function as well, but derby names are often particularly good source identifiers because they are tied to aesthetic features that fill out distinct personas.

(Fagundes, 2012, p. 1105)

References Page

- This is a separate page at the end of your paper. Each citation in the text must be listed on the References page; each listing on the References page must appear in the text.
- The title of the page is centered, bolded, and labeled References.
- All text is double-spaced, just like the rest of the paper.
- Indent the second and subsequent lines of citations by 0.5 inch to create a hanging indent.

Article from a Scholarly Journal

APA recommends providing a Digital Object Identifier \(DOI\), when it is available. DOIs provide stable, long-lasting links for online articles.
